

FELIX RAFAEL D. DE GUZMAN

As a Cum Laude IT graduate with a combined two years of software development experience, I bring a strong foundation in UI/UX design and front-end development, with a focus on creating visually appealing and user-friendly web and mobile interfaces. I have worked with an Australian-based SaaS platform serving real estate agencies, contributing to frontend development and implementation. I am passionate about building seamless user experiences and eager to contribute to innovative, collaborative projects.

INDUSTRY EXPERIENCE

Full-Stack Developer Intern - MVP Asia Pacific

January - May, 2023

- Underwent multiple development cycles for various projects
- Collaborated daily with the software development team for progress assessment and received mentorship.
- Maintained and updated legacy code for the backend.

Freelance Developer/Content Writer - Upwork

February 2022 - October 2024

- Conducted UI/UX design, ensuring intuitive interfaces that align with client branding and user needs.
- Wrote content for websites, optimizing for SEO and user engagement.
- Delivered visually striking landing pages that enhanced brand visibility.

Frontend Developer - WebIT+ListOnce

October 2024 - December 2025

- Drive the front-end development of responsive web applications for multiple Australian based real-estate clients, utilizing Django-HTML templates, SCSS, and JavaScript frameworks such as ReactJS, etc.
- Provide UI/UX design efforts by prototypes and user journey maps, then partner closely with clients to refine and validate designs.
- Build and customize Wagtail CMS templates and Django template views, occasionally dipping into backend work, including PostgreSQL integration and Docker-based local development environments.
- Handle QA and ticketing workflow in Jira—from triaging and resolving client requests to contributing on larger project tasks, running browser tests, logging bugs, and managing everything with Git/Bitbucket.
- Led end-to-end frontend redevelopment of a client website, accurately translating UI/UX and design mockups into production and coordinating with stakeholders on design updates.
